2019-2024
Strategic Plan

FROM THE HEAD OF SCHOOL

Dear Léman Manhattan Community,

Léman celebrates its 15th academic year in 2019-20, to be marked by a number of festivities and reflections across our school. We all take great pride in Léman's mission and philosophy – to provide a dynamic, international learning environment for day and residential students. As an International Baccalaureate World School, a Léman education fosters a global mindset and provides opportunities for students from PK to 12th grade to become open-minded and collaborative individuals sought after by top universities and employers.

The importance of the global citizenship cultivated at Léman each day – particularly in today's complex society – cannot be overstated. As educators and parents, we share the great responsibility of preparing the next generation to thrive through the building of cultural understanding, empathy and sense of purpose.

Now well into our second decade, it is an opportune time to define the future vision for Léman and build upon our established academic program and strong community. In partnership with Brand Initiatives Group, a leading Manhattan-based consultancy with deep expertise in independent school strategic planning, and Léman parents, students and faculty, we recently embarked on a strategic planning exercise to reflect on and map our evolution, accomplishments, future goals and areas of opportunity.

Our objective was to define a five-year strategic plan that would:

- Enable Léman to fulfill its mission to equip talented students from PK-12 with the skills they need to thrive in a rapidly changing, interconnected world
- Attract, retain and inspire a world-class faculty to deliver on the school's mission and vision
- Expand Léman's deserved reputation, recognition and awareness to continue our growth towards enrollment capacity in the coming years
- Define a roadmap for the future to fulfill the school's academic, financial and community goals

I extend a sincere thank you to the Léman community who provided valuable feedback and insights through parent and employee surveys, focus groups and workshops to inform this plan for the future of our school. I was inspired by your commitment and dedication to Léman, and by your passion for sharing beyond the walls of our Broad and Morris Street campuses what we all know is so special about a Léman education.

Sincerely,

Maria Castelluccio
Head of School
